

STRAPPING

Strapping can be used effectively in retraining proprioception while protecting a vulnerable joint during activities and sport. Different types of taping can be used to reach different goals. Kinesio taping, sports taping as well as rigid taping are used to optimise the patient's return to activities and sport or to reduce swelling and inflammation.